

My First Platypus Document

Platypus automatically handles page breaks, text wrapping, and layout for you. Just add flowable objects to the story and call build().

This is a second paragraph. It will wrap naturally within the page margins and overflow to the next page if needed.